CHANGE THE DESTINY OF A PASTOR, A CHURCH AND A COUNTRY

In Rwanda, many students training to become pastors are living in poverty. You can help these students complete their training, to get started in their ministries across the country and to bring the light and life of the gospel to a nation. You can empower them to change the destiny of their country.

Destiny Changers: Rwanda is your chance to make a lasting difference in Rwanda by giving the gift of trained pastors to a growing church.

The program is delivered through our international ministry partner Canadian Baptist Ministries [CBM] and the Baptist Union Development Foundation [BUDF]. Canadian Baptists and Carey Theological College have been helping train leaders in Africa for over 35 years working with national denominations and emerging leaders.

Working with Rwandan Baptist partners, and their seminary in Kigali, our goal is to fund a class of 24 pastors through their three year seminary degree. You can help these men and women who often struggle to study while working full-time in order to provide for themselves and their families. You can be the difference in a pastor's life. We need 96 sponsors like you at 45 dollars per month for three years to completely fund the entire class.

Here's how it works:

1. CBWC are committed to contributing 90% of the cost of training for seminary students, the students and their churches providing the remaining 10%. Together, this covers the student's tuition, room and board, transportation, books and a stipend to help the family during the training.
2. Each Destiny Changer commits to providing $45.00 per month [$1.50 per day] for three years, preferably through their local church or directly to CBWC. Three sponsors are all it takes to support one seminary student. Your church forwards the funds to CBWC designated Destiny Changers: Rwanda.
3. CBWC and the BUDF have generously underwritten the cost of developing and administering the Destiny Changers program so we are able to forward 100% of your financial support to CBM.
4. CBM supervises the disbursement of funds generated for the program and reports back to you regularly on the progress of the seminary class.
5. Your charitable income tax receipts are provided by your church or CBWC.
